

Grissom grills the teen:

G: How well did you know Joseph?

TERRY: He was in my class...we passed in the hall, that kind of stuff.

G: Anything else?

TERRY: We worked on a quarter project for history class together...we got a "B"...it was no big deal.

G: Did you spend a lot of time together?

TERRY: Not really, we worked on it in study hall.

G: We found this mark on Joseph's hand...

GRISSOM SLIDES THE PHOTOGRAPH ACROSS THE TABLE, IT SHOWS A BURN IN MARK ON THE PALM OF JOSEPH'S HAND:

Terry: Yeah?

G: Do you recognize it?

Terry: ...not really...

G: Let me see your palms.

TERRY OPENS PALMS TO SHOW A SIMILAR MARK...

Terry: ...It's...it's not the same.

G: ...explain...

Terry: The kids...at school, there's this group ...of friends, and that is one of the kid's rings... we heat it up and it kind of bonds our friendship...

G: So yours is a different ring...

TERRY: Yeah...Joseph wasn't in our group... he was a skull...mines a cross...

G: So the skulls and the crosses...

TERRY: ...we're different...they're...different.

G: Different...

TERRY: Yeah, they are kind of dark, they like the.....devil.

G: Devil worshipers?

Terry: ...yeah, like that...

G: I need the names of all the skulls...

TERRY: ... I only know three or four...

G: And all the "crosses", too...

TERRY: ...the crosses?

G: Yeah, the crosses...is that a problem?

Terry: We're sworn to secrecy...

G: Yeah, well I think it's in your best interest to give us a list...

Terry: I can't...
