

INT. PATIENT ROOM - DAY

HEATH

HEATH MERCER, 17, wears the championship sweatshirt of his high school hockey team. The doctors look at his finger.

DR. SMITH

(to Heath)

How'd you do that?

Sc. 1

HEATH

After hockey practice this morning, I didn't have my glove on 'cause I was grabbing a drink from the goalie's water bottle. Next thing I know, this ass-hat crashes into the net, my hand gets all tangled in the mesh and I start hearing pops. Big pops.

DR. FLYNN

You drove yourself here?

HEATH

My coach brought me. But Mom's on her way. You gotta try to keep her calm, alright?

Dr. Flynn looks at his x-rays which are illuminated on a light box on the wall.

~~DR. FLYNN~~

~~Dr. O'Malley, what do you see?~~

DR. SMITH

~~Dislocation of the DIP joint.~~

(points)

~~Multiple fractures.~~

(back to Heath)

That must really hurt.

HEATH

It's just a finger. Last season I took a puck to the face. Broke two teeth.

DR. FLYNN

Orthos love hockey season. Like Christmas every day.

Dr. Flynn turns back to Heath.

HEATH

Could you just, like, put it in a splint or something? I got a big game this afternoon.
